"I can't repudiate it. It was never mine to repudiate. It was never father and Uncle Buddy's to bequeath me to repudiate because it was never Grandfather's to bequeath them to bequeath me to repudiate because it was never old Ikkenotubbe's to sell to Grandfather for bequeathment and repudiation. Because it was never Ikkenotubbe's fathers' fathers' to bequeath Ikkenotubbe to sell to Grandfather or any man because on the instant when Ikkenotubbe discovered, realized, that he could sell it for money, it ceased ever to have been his forever, father to father to father, and the man who bought it bought nothing."

The Bear
William Faulkner

To rise before me—Rise, O ever rise,
Rise like a cloud of incense from the Earth!
Thou kingly Spirit throned among the hills,
Thou dread ambassador from Earth to Heaven,
Great Hierarch! tell thou the silent sky,
And tell the stars, and tell yon rising sun
Earth, with her thousand voices, praises God.

Hymn Before Sunrise
Samuel Taylor Coleridge
